

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 2018
9AM UNTIL NOON
BASIC INCOME
FORUM

What is it? Will it make a difference? Join us for the discussion!

Guest speakers:

Rob Rainer: Rob will speak to the meaning of basic income, to key principles for a truly progressive basic income in Canada, to options for funding a decent basic income, and to responding to key objections to basic income.

John Stapleton: John will review the current income system and some of the problems it faces along with a profile of who is poor in Canada.

Richard Shillington: Richard will highlight the arguments for a Basic Income as well as highlight the problems/hurdles one faces in implementing such a system.

TO REGISTER: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/basic-income-forum-tickets-43836664644>

For more information please contact Sylvie Kinloch at 613-930-0211

Sponsored by:

Social Development Council of Cornwall & area
"building stronger communities"

Conseil de développement social de Cornwall et de la région
"renforcer les communautés"

Guest Speakers:

Rob Rainer is the driving force behind the current basic income movement in Canada and is the inaugural chair of the provisional steering committee of the Ontario Basic Income Network.

Richard Shillington is engaged in the quantitative analysis of health, social and economic policy for over 30 years.

John Stapleton is a former provincial government employee with MCSS for 28 years, and is currently undertaking an Innovations Fellowship with the Metcalf Foundation. He is a public policy educator and member of the 25 in 5 anti-poverty group, sitting on Toronto's advisory group on poverty reduction. He is also a member of federal Minister Duclos' Advisory Group on poverty reduction.

WHERE:

ONTARIO POWER GENERATION VISITOR CENTRE

2500B Second St. West
Cornwall, ON

Snacks will be provided

